

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

A brief look at some of CI's most distinguished alumni.

CI is an accelerated learning provider. For students and recent graduates, CI's programs provide the skills, experience and links to employers necessary to launch successful careers in today's competitive and rapidly evolving employment landscape.

We boast a consistent and powerful track-record in positively and dramatically influencing the career trajectories of our students. Our alumni get hired three times more quickly, 2.5 versus 7.5 months, and earn 30 percent more, $45,000 versus $36,000, than their graduate peers straight out of college.

Our team is always extremely proud to see interns graduate from our programs and join globally reputable firms.

We caught up with a handful of our thousand-strong alumni.

Learn how CI's approach to accelerated learning impacted alumni and the effect it has had on their futures.

CI CLASS OF 2014

Company: King & Wood Mallesons
Job title: Trainee Solicitor
CI program: 2014, Law Firm
Education: Law, City University London, 2015

CI

How did the program affect your career direction?

“ Stephanie

I knew that I wanted to start a career in law but I was undecided between the barrister or solicitor route. By interning in Los Angeles I was able to gain exposure to both and make comparisons. I also learned that I want to work in a busy city – I really enjoy the city lifestyle.

Was the work experience aspect of the program beneficial?

“ Undertaking work experience is a much more practical way of learning and a great way to apply knowledge in a real-life setting. I found the chance to compare US and UK law really interesting: it opened my mind to different legal practices.

I've also noticed that hiring employers have put huge emphasis on work experience and having international experience was a massive advantage in securing my spot on King & Wood Mallesons' graduate intake.

What advice would you give to students and recent graduates considering our programs?

“ Complete as much work experience as possible. It's essential for interview content and sets you apart from your peers. Many of my friends are lost since graduation but work experience I gained through the program has given me a head-start.

CI program: 2015, Financial Consulting Firm
Education: BA Political Science & Economics, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, 2015

CI

How did the program impact your career plans?

“ Neal

I knew I wanted to do something related to my major, but I didn't have a set career path. My internship was at a firm dedicated to foreign exchange consulting. I gained a lot of client facing exposure as well as valuable hands on experience. My current employer required related experience for the role that I am now in and it was so helpful to have the company I interned with as a reference as well as CI there to vouch for me.”

Do you have any advice for those thinking about joining our programs?

It really is a worthwhile investment that will pay off in the long run. It's hard to find such great internships on your own in those cities. This is an all-inclusive option. Keep an open mind, be open to suggestions and opportunities to learn – there are so many. You won't always be given tasks that you like, but those are the ones that can show you what you don't want to do and ultimately get you closer to your end goal. Take full advantage of the program and all it has to offer. The events and curriculum are worth your time and will benefit you long-term.

What was the best part about your summer?

Our weekend getaway was the best part of the program. It was nice to get out of NYC and bond with the other interns. I made friends that I still speak to today.

- Job title: Portfolio Analyst
- CI program: 2015, Hedge Fund
- Education: BSc Financial Economic & Applied Mathematics, Emory University, 2015

CI

How do you feel the Program helped you mature as a person and a professional?

“ Andrew

I was always focused on a role in Investment Banking. I had originally wanted a sell-side role, but I chose a buy-side internship. This completely changed my career path and led me to where I am today. I learned the ins-and-outs of finance through my internship. At school, they provide you with a theory-based understanding of industries. My internship allowed me to put that theory into practice. I came away with skills and experience that they just don't teach you at school.

Do you have any advice to students and graduates in a similar position to you?

“ Be goal-oriented. Develop a path and an idea of where you want your career to go. Make sure that you do everything you can now to be in a position that will help you market yourself down the line.

What was the most memorable part of the program?

“ It wasn't all about the internship. I still keep in touch with the people from my program. It's nice to have a group of friends who are also young professionals and share my interests and goals.

CI CLASS OF 2014

Company: Burberry

Job title: Commerical Assistant

CI program: 2014, Sales and Marketing

Education: Business Administration, Centre d'Etudes Franco-American de Management, 2016

CI

Did your experience on a CI program help you to realize your career direction?

“ Etienne

Absolutely. I really didn't have much of an idea of what I wanted to do before my internship, but I was able to realize my passion for marketing and gain experience in the fashion industry. Marketing is a great way to apply my university degree and I was able to grow significantly from spending time in a professional environment outside of the classroom.

Do you feel better prepared to enter the art, fashion and design industry upon graduation?

“ Yes, I was able to greatly improve my communication skills, and spent time in a new environment in a different country. There is a certain level of focus and attention to detail that you can only learn from the workplace, especially if you want to work in this industry. Along the way, I was also able to sharpen my professional skills and learn how to write a solid CV.

Has your experience had a lasting effect on you as a professional?

“ My internship experience on the Program has caught the eye of many employers and helped me to land other opportunities. I am better prepared for my career as a result of my diverse and noteworthy internship. It is always beneficial to pick up international experience in any industry, and I know that I am a better interviewee thanks to the workshops and events during the program. The professional and personal connections that I was able to make during the program have stuck with me and I plan on spending time with these friends when I return to London.

CI does a good job of getting students job-ready. With the weekly career seminars, workshops and networking events, everyone gets a better feel of the professional world. Without CI I would not have landed my current position. My company kept noting the fact that I had done an international internship which gave me a huge advantage over the other candidates.

Did you have any idea of what you wanted to do before the program?

“ “

I'm not sure anyone knows exactly what they want to do, but the the Program helped me to narrow down my career outlook. The program shaped my role in the professional world and I had one of the best summers of my life.

What advice would you give to someone who is considering our programs?

An internship is crucial, particularly by junior or senior year. The effort you put in is what you get out. That applies to anything in life. I have a lot to thank CI for. They put in a lot of work for you – they have good drive and passion to help people out with their careers.

The program is interesting because it gives you an idea of what you do - or don't want to do in the future. I always thought I wanted to go into investment banking. However, my career path changed as a result of my internship. I gained exposure to the lifestyle that I would be expected to have and I realized that it wasn't the right fit for me. I decided to switch gears and pursue accounting instead, and I'm very satisfied with my decision. If I hadn't have done the program, I would have wasted the beginning of my career in a

What advice would you give to students and recent graduates considering our programs?

“ My advice is to take part in the program. It's an excellent platform to kick-start your career and ensure a good name is on your CV from the off. But you can't stop there, get as much experience under your belt as you can in order to make yourself stand out. It's important to work hard for things to fall into place.

Everything about the program was helpful, from the internship experience to the social events. Having the internship experience really helped me in my career. Before the program I was another student with limited experience and having this internship on my CV definitely made me a more attractive prospective employee.

What advice would you give to future participants in our programs?

“ “ Don't just focus on your internship, explore all the opportunities that CI offers you and attend the career seminars - I met many established professionals who could answer your questions. Lastly, pay extra attention to networking sessions; networking is key! You must focus on relationship-building throughout your internship.

CI

How did the program influence your career trajectory?

“ Charles

Before I joined the program, I knew nothing about what I wanted to do. My internship and the career-focused seminars that make up the Global Internship Program gave me insight into the real world and what day-to-day life in the finance industry looks like. I gained first-hand experience, which is the best way to learn and become familiar with the career field that interests you. Interviewers recognized the value of my work experience and my internship was an essential component of my career progression.

What was the most memorable part of the program?

“ I really enjoyed the Executive Panel. At the time, I couldn't decide between exploring a career in law or finance. Through the Executive Panel that CI hosted, I had direct access to top level professionals in both fields who were able to give me insight about life in each sector. This really helped me to narrow my options and choose the career path and lifestyle that I was looking for.

What advice would you give to students considering our programs?

“ An internship is a brilliant opportunity to figure out what you do and don't like. Build your industry knowledge so you can choose an area to focus on; CI opened the doors that enabled me to do just that. The program helped me to refine my knowledge and focus my job search. Don't overlook the social element; I am still connected with many of my fellow participants today.

 What impact has the program has on your career?

“ “ Wout
 The program widened my international outlook and gave me the push to intern abroad. Advice from my employers, contacts with fellow interns and the seminars organized by CI have no doubt also contributed to ensuring I am actively engaged in developing my career, and pursuing the path I've set for myself.

Aside from your internship what aspects of the program did you find to be the most valuable?

“ “ Networking. It is probably the biggest gap in any academic curriculum and in my opinion, the greatest asset of the program. The opportunity to learn and develop networking skills have certainly helped me along the way.
 I also really enjoyed the weekend away in the Lake District. It was only a small group, but I formed some great friendships over the weekend that set me in good stead for the remainder of the program. The highlight was no doubt the ghyll scrambling!

Any advice you'd give to future participants on our programs?

“ “ It's great to have an idea where you want your career to head (before your internship), but it's better if it isn't set in stone. Approaching challenges and new opportunities with an open mind will open your eyes to interests and professional perspectives you might not have noticed in the first place.

CI

Why did you choose to join a CI program?

“ Alexandra

I felt like I already had a solid skillset and was confident in my own abilities, but was not completely sure what I wanted to do with my degree upon graduation. My internship gave me a snapshot of what it would be like to work in marketing and taught me new skills while sharpening those that I already possessed. Not only that, but I realized the importance of creating a network within the marketing and public relations industry, and was able to do that through this program.

Was there anything that stood out to you as exceptional during your experience?

“ I really enjoyed spending time with and getting to know the CI team. The entire team was very helpful throughout the program and I always enjoyed the input that they were able to give. It was wonderful to be able to get added exposure and develop myself further as a professional because that is vital for any young person. In general, it was a very positive and rewarding experience.

Do you have any advice for college students or recent graduates?

“ It is very important to keep a level head and never let your emotions get the best of you. There will certainly be times that are difficult as you look to break through in your chosen career field, but you must remain calm and remember that it is all part of the process. Build strong, lasting relationships with everyone that you meet because you never know when these connections will be of help to you.

The Program helped me to become comfortable working with clients in a professional setting. I became acquainted with professional etiquette and improved my work-place efficiency. Aside from that, my interviewing process was seamless due to the fact that most of the questions asked at my interview at Charles Schwab were answered with things I experienced via the program.

Aside from the internship, what other aspects of the program did you enjoy?

“ I really enjoyed some of the social networking events that we were a part of. My senior mentor also took me to some networking events on his own time that were a great learning experience.

Looking back, are you glad that you did the program?

“ 100%, it was worth every penny. It was one of the best summers of my life. Being from a small town in Connecticut and having the opportunity to spend a summer in a city like Los Angeles was something I would have never dreamed of. The experience was amazing both professionally and socially.

Do you feel your program experience was of interest to graduate employers?

““ Katie

Yes, at every interview or meeting since I completed the program it has been the main item interviewers ask about. Interviews would focus on my experience and I was able to answer tricky questions as a result.

Did the program gave you an advantage over your peers?

““ I had a job offer in February, before anyone else, and started working one week after my final exam; two months before I actually graduated. I think that says a lot! I also feel like I've been able to travel like I would have in a gap year, while getting experience and ascending the career ladder.

Looking back, has the program helped you shape your career?

““ It really helped me to decide what I did and didn't like about different roles in the industry. I believe that you can really only know if you actually want to do the job you dream about once you've lived it for a few months.

Do you have any advice for students to help them get where you are today?

““ Don't wait until your final year to start gaining experience! Even if you don't know exactly what you want to do, getting work experience and volunteering for opportunities that interest you will not only add to your CV but also narrow down what you want to do when you graduate.

“ “ Maninder

The extra-curricular networking activities were great; the program acts as a mini graduate scheme. During the program I learned how to network and more generally, about the world of finance. At university you pick up theoretical knowledge, but in an internship it's a completely different world. The program teaches you the skills you need for your career.

“ “ The reason I went to CI was to try different things. With the program I managed to gain international exposure and a great name on my CV. I can't imagine how else I would have picked up this well-rounded experience without going through the program; it taught me about the options I have. My career interests changed during my internship. My degree was in chemical engineering, so I didn't know anything about finance. The internship was a taster for me and I was offered a full-time position following the program. I enjoyed my internship so much, that I accepted the offer!

Did you feel more prepared for your current job after the internship?

“ I didn't have access to real-world examples at university the way I did in my internship. I analyze markets and real-life events directly affect the portfolio I manage. My experience was key for me to secure the job offer. A degree can only take you so far: employers are more interested in practical work experience. You can't put a price on teamwork skills and making progress in the workplace.

On top of all the skills I learned, I would not have landed my current position without the program.

What advice would you give to recent graduates looking to get where you are?

“ Networking is key and you should be willing to try something different. I kept my options open instead of going down my anticipated career route of engineering. I find most people now are focused entirely on the job title, which might change 10-15 times throughout your life. As long as you're learning and getting feedback from people willing to teach you, that's more important.
